A Message from Our Sponsor

I'm glad to report that both Storm Dudley and Storm Eunice passed over our school building without leaving any damage behind. Talking premises, Class 2M will be delighted to know that we've had their radiator repaired and they will not arrive in school next week to any more room flooding or soggy carpets. Even better news, the carpets are now entirely dry and odour free.

COVID 19

I'm pleased to confirm that no new COVID cases have been reported to me during the break, so that should mean we have a really high attendance figure on Monday. Please remember we are still operating a staggered arrival time between 08.30 and 08.55 with lesson one starting at 09.00. However, the closer to 08.30 the better, for each and every pupil, as they get more opportunities for completing corrections, engaging in retrieval activities, being heard read by an adult and practising new skills.

Mr Beale's Highlight of the Week

Mr Beale has had a fine break but can never drag himself too far away from Holland Moor. This week I've been able to order six books for our 'newly published' bookcases, plan some World Book Day philosophy activities, organise our next Big KS2 Write and practise my art skills for our new study of the artist Corina Kent. I don't know which I enjoyed most but adding slogans to my art pieces was great fun. I think the children are going to really enjoy their artistic endeavours this coming week.

Attendance

Our target for this week reverts to 96.0%

Sport at Holland Moor

Our football team will be travelling to Sunderland on Thursday March 17 to take part in the northern finals.

Interested in Special Educational Needs?

Have a look at specialneedsjungle.com. It's an informative and interesting site. Lots of learning in a very accessible way. I've asked a few questions too and they always answer.

Year Six Zoom Meeting For Parents and Carers

This week Year 6 will start our retrieval and revision programme as we begin to prepare them for the SATs tests in May. Booster classes and homework packages will commence soon. To make sure all parents and carers have a complete understanding of the whole preparatory process and of the tests themselves we'll be running a remote (Zoom) training session on Tuesday March 1st starting at 6pm. I'll send out full details and a link later this week.

Colouring Competition February

The February colouring competition sheets are still available from the school office.
